With only 38,217 miles on the clock, this 2013 BMW M3 iV8 represents an opportunity to own a performance vehicle with remarkably low mileage for its age. This M3 is equipped with a potent 4.0L petrol engine, ready to deliver an engaging driving experience. The interior boasts black carbon structure leather trim, enhanced Bluetooth telephone functionality with USB audio interface and voice control, and a rain sensor with automatic headlight activation. For added comfort, the vehicle includes front heated seats and automatic dual-zone air conditioning. This BMW M3 stands out with its low insurance group, potentially offering savings compared to similar high-performance vehicles. The spacious boot provides practicality, making it more versatile than some other sports models. Furthermore, the impressive acceleration, achieving 0-62mph in just 4.6 seconds, demonstrates its superior performance capabilities.
