With only 136 miles on the clock, this 2022 Citroen Ami is practically brand new. This electric car boasts a 6 kWh battery, offering a maximum range of 47 miles when new. The vehicle includes a panoramic sunroof, allowing natural light to flood the cabin, and LED front and rear lights for enhanced visibility and a modern look. Charging is convenient, taking just 4 hours to reach full capacity using a 7kW home charger. The low mileage for its age means that this Ami stands out as a particularly well-preserved example. The inclusion of a panoramic sunroof and LED lighting further enhances its appeal, setting it apart from other similar vehicles.
