With only 50018 miles on the clock, this 2020 Ford Ranger is a great option. As a Raptor derivative with the Raptor trim, this four-door vehicle is equipped with a 2.0L diesel engine and a four-wheel-drive drivetrain. Meeting Euro 6 emission standards, this Ranger includes manual air conditioning, rear parking sensors, and heated front seats for both the driver and passenger. It also features a trailer tow hitch with a 13-pin socket and Bi-Xenon headlights. The 210 bhp engine is a real plus, showing that this vehicle offers a superior level of power compared to similar models. The Ford Ranger Raptor combines practicality with comfort, making it a well-rounded choice for various needs.
